The Reported Assassination of Gov. Crittenden Yesterday.

Washington, D. C., April 8.—A rumor has been quite generally circulated here this afternoon that Gov. Crittenden was assassinated in Missouri, to-day, by somebody supposed to be connected with the James gang. The rumor created considerable excitement, but up to the present time no Missouri members have received information to confirm it, and they do not credit it.

LATER.

St. Louis, April 8.—The reports which were circulated here and abroad, this morning, that Gov. Crittenden had been assassinated by Frank James' gang, are entirely without foundation. A telegram from Secretary of State McGrath, to the Associated Press correspondent, in reply to an inquiry, says: "The report is nonsensical. The governor is well, and Sheriff Timberlake and Commissioner Craig are now here after the reward. One of the railroads concerned has already sent to the governor its share of the reward for Jesse James."

DEAD.

Hon. Thomas Allen, M. C., Died in Washington Yesterday.

Washington, April 8.—Representative Allen, of Missouri, died this morning. Thomas Allen was born on the 29th day of August, 1813, at Pittsfield, Massachusetts. His father was a prominent citizen of Massachusetts, and was frequently a representative or senator in the legislature of that state, and was a quartermaster in the United States army in the war of 1812.

Thomas was sent to school at Pittsfield, and afterwards to the Berkshire Gymnasium, in the same town, where he finished his preparatory studies under the celebrated naturalist, Professor Chester Dewey. In 1829 he entered Union college, and graduated in 1832 as the valedictorian of his class. He immediately began the study of law at Albany, N. Y., but family misfortunes interfered with the completion of his course here. Thomas went to New York City, and succeeded in securing a position in the law office of Hatch & Cambreleng, as a clerk. He employed his leisure hours in study, and managed to subsist on his earnings as a copyist. He was admitted to the bar in 1835, and was soon in the enjoyment of a lucrative practice.

In the spring of 1842, Mr. Allen removed to St. Louis, where he opened a law office, but almost exclusively devoted himself to public enterprises, in which he became a leader. The railroad system of the west owes much of its present extensiveness and importance to him. He was instrumental in securing the subscription to the St. Louis and Cincinnati railroad in 1848, and was prominent in the Pacific railroad movement in 1849. In 1850 Mr. Allen was elected president of the Pacific railroad, and in 1857 president of the Ferre Haute, Alton & St. Louis road. In 1867 he became the purchaser of the Iron Mountain road and aided greatly towards the completion of that railway. When the St. Louis & Iron Mountain, the Cairo, Arkansas & Texas and the Cairo & Fulton companies were consolidated under the name of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern, Mr. Allen became president of this great company. He was engaged in many other railroad enterprises and also in banking. Mr. Allen also had considerable literary ability. He was a newspaper writer in 1833; in 1834 he was editor of the Family Magazine, in which position he continued for eighteen months. In 1836 he began the publication of the Madisonian in Washington, but in 1840 the entire office was consumed by fire. The paper re-appeared the following month, and the publication was continued until 1841. Mr. Allen was a very wealthy man and endowed several institutions of learning with professorships. His character was without stain, and in him the west has lost one of its representative men. He was in his sixty-ninth year.

An Extensive Fire.

Louisville, Ky., April 8.—At Smith Grove, Henry county, Kentucky, Thursday night, a fire broke out in the hardware and grocery store of Drane & Pointer, and before the flames could be extinguished about twenty thousand dollars' worth of property was destroyed. The frame storehouse in which the fire originated, a two-story building adjoining and occupied by W. H. Pace & Co., dry goods, and a shoe shop a short distance away, were entirely destroyed. It was with the greatest difficulty that the grange building across the street was saved. The burning of that would probably have destroyed almost the whole town.

Probabilities as to the Grain Crop.

Chicago, April 8.—St. Paul specials are full of crop news. One correspondent, who has been revising the reports, says out of 100 received about the only favorable ones come from Northwestern Dakota. Interviews with leading grain men of Minnesota, however, show a general belief that the wheat crop next year will be of pretty nearly the same acreage as in '81, provided the weather for the next two or three weeks is favorable for seeding. As to other grains, preparations have undoubtedly been made for a much heavier sowing than last year.

Shipper Being Examined as to the Peruvian Company.

Washington, April 8.—The Shipper examination was resumed this morning. The witness, in answer to the question if he had any further correspondence or interviews with Walker Blaine subsequent to the writing of the letter read yesterday, answered that he had one other interview with Walker Blaine, in the state department, some time in November last, and Trescott was present part of the time. Witnesses desired to know if the newspaper charges submitted by him against Hurlbut were to be admitted in the evidence, and after a general discussion the opinion of the committee was unanimously expressed in opposition to the admission of campaign matter in the nature of a general attack upon the character of Hurlbut.

Shepherd said he deemed it due to himself to be allowed any evidence in his own defense which led him to form his opinion that Hurlbut was a purchasable man.

A running discussion ensued, and finally Mr. Blount moved to exclude this evidence. The motion was tabled for the present.

Mr. Rice resumed with the inquiry: "Have you any other correspondence with Secretary of State Blaine which has not been printed?"

Answer: "I have none with the exception of one letter, December 10th, '81, addressed to Gov. Boutwell and intended to be shown the secretary of state, whoever it might be, whether Blaine or Frelinghuysen."

The letter was quite long and defended the writer, Shipper, from the secretary's charges against him of attempting to bribe Minister Hurlbut.

HE THOUGHT BLAINE WAS WITH HIM.

Washington, D. C., April 8.—The testimony of Shipper before the house foreign affairs committee, to-day, was to the effect that he was led to believe all along that the state department was working cordially with him in behalf of his claim. He repeated all conversation with Secretary Blaine, going to show, he claimed, that Blaine was in sympathy with him. He repeated the statements of Senator Blair, his counsel, to him, to the effect that the state department was all right. He said Blair assured him he could stake his life that the state department was all right, and that he supposed Blaine and Hurlbut were actively co-operating with him; but some time ago he began to suspect they were playing him false. Shipper produced no document or any evidence of alleged talks with Blaine, and it all rests on his interpretations of what Blaine said.

THE CYCLONE

That Did Great Damage in Michigan on Thursday Night Last.

Chicago, April 8.—Michigan dispatches estimate the damage by the cyclone in Kalamazoo and Cannel township at $50,000 to $75,000.

LATER ACCOUNTS.

Detroit, Mich., April 8.—Further accounts show that the cyclone of Thursday night visited township Assyria, Barry county, and with the same general results of devastation in a track about forty rods wide. Two small children of Mr. Mead are reported killed, and another badly injured. Silas Reynolds was also killed, and two children severely injured. The buildings of Levi Kenyon were demolished and he was probably hurt fatally. This is the third visitation of this sort in two years in this township. There are few additional particulars from Kalamazoo.

Senator Logan Ill in St. Louis.

St. Louis, April 8.—Senator Logan, of Illinois, did not proceed to Hot Springs, as telegraphed yesterday. He is so unwell that he is remaining over at the Southern hotel, and may probably stop here several days. He is accompanied by ex-Senator Chaffee, of Colorado.

A Freight War Probable.

Chicago, April 8.—The Grand Trunk railroad has been accused of cutting freight rates, but emphatically denies the charge. The strength of the accusation lies in the fact that the Grand Trunk is getting an undue and disproportionate share of the freight traffic and the officials of other roads say if this condition of affairs continues a freight war is certain.

MUELLER'S CRIME.

A Bank Teller Who is Short About $30,000.

Indianapolis, April 8.—Since the mysterious disappearance of Arthur Mueller, teller of the Central bank of this city, the experts have been examining the books of the bank. The examination was concluded at a late hour last night, and the shortage which at first was supposed to be $2,500 was found to be $30,000. The officers of the bank met in consultation at one o'clock this morning, with their attorney, and, upon information of the directors, he advised the closing of the bank until a further examination could be made to verify the experts' report.

The Bender Hoax.

St. Louis, April 8.—A special to the Post-Dispatch, from Ft. Scott, Kan., says Jacob Balies, under arrest in St. Louis, charged with being old man Bender, the Kansas fiend, is well-known in that county. He has lived about Uniontown for many years. Balies will now probably be released by the chief of police here.
